

AP Psychology 2018/2019

Hello Future students,

AP Psychology is designed to provide the scope and level of academic achievement found in an introductory college course. We will cover a wide range of topics and apply those topics to personal experiences. In AP Psychology, you must be the main agent of learning in the educational process. I have the responsibility to structure learning situations and facilitate student achievement in preparation for the May AP Psychology exam. I will also try my hardest to keep things interesting. AP Psychology requires that a considerable amount of time be spent outside the classroom preparing for various learning activities.

Your summer reading and assignment has been posted to my google drive:
